- All our hard-shell canoes are Royalex expedition/wilderness tripping models, and our normal boat would be an "upgrade" from other livery agents.
- We are the Swift Canoe & Kayak dealer in the north, and our rentals are typically the Swift Dumoine at 16'-4" or Swift Yukon at 17'-6". Both are exceptional craft, with the main difference being carrying capacity and volume. These boats have an arched hull and some rocker, so exhibit somewhat less initial stability than a lake canoe, but have high secondary stability, necessary for safe wilderness travel.
- Outfitting includes Kevlar skid plates, gear D-rings, strap D-rings (straps optional), and kneeling pads.
- Northwater Rescue spray decks are available for all hard shell canoes.
- Inflatable canoes are SOAR expedition models, available in both 14' and 16' lengths. When inflated, these boats are quite rigid and easy to paddle, but have a forgiving nature well suited to rough water. They combine the virtues of a raft and canoe in one boat. As the inflated side tubes take up space, they have good weight carrying capacity but less volume than a hard shell. Removable patches in the four corners turn these boats into self-bailers.
- Standard rentals include end lines, 3 paddles, a bailer, 2 PFDs with whistles, and a throw rope. Inflatable canoes include the preceding, plus padded seats, a repair kit, pump and storage bag.

RIVER SURCHARGE

- Some rivers simply do more damage than others, no matter how good a paddler you are. Rather than raise our overall rates, we add a surcharge to cover additional wear and tear. This is in addition to the regular rental cost and allows for more scratches and dents, but is not a replacement for the damage deposit, which still applies. Significantly damage the boat and the deposit applies, as noted in the Terms and Conditions.

- The surcharge is a flat rate of $50 per hard-shell canoe, and rivers included are the Hess, Bonnet Plume, South MacMillan, Mountain, Coal and Tsichu. If you want to paddle a river that is not listed in our Ground Transportation Prices and is of similar difficulty to the preceding rivers, we will consider a surcharge on an individual basis. An example would be the Little Nahanni. Note that these are rivers that some companies simply will not rent for. We supply premium boats and a surcharge is a way of holding costs for most rivers at a competitive level while continuing to rent for more difficult trips. Inflatable canoes are not subject to the surcharge.
